Work Opportunity Tax Credit

The Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) is a federal tax credit available to employers who invest in American job seekers who have consistently faced barriers to employment. Employers may meet their business needs and claim a tax credit if they hire an individual who is in a WOTC targeted group.

Employers must apply for and receive a certification verifying the new hire is a member of a targeted group before they can claim the tax credit. After the required certification is secured, taxable employers claim the WOTC as a general business credit against their income taxes, and tax-exempt employers claim the WOTC against their payroll taxes.

WorkShare IL

WorkShare IL is a voluntary program that provides employers facing a decline in business with an alternative to layoffs. The program allows an employer to reduce the hours of workers in any unit of their business in order to avoid permanent layoffs of workers. Each worker in an affected unit continues to work, but experiences a reduction in hours that ranges from 20% to 60%. Workers receive a portion of their unemployment benefits during the period of the temporary reduction to offset the reduction in earnings.

SUCCESS STORIES

Cornucopia Natural Market & Deli

Over 30 years and through four expansions due to growth, Cornucopia is positioned as a premier source of organic foods, natural healing products, nutritional supplements, body care, and eco-friendly cleaning choices in the Galesburg, Illinois area. Additionally, their unique deli offers freshly prepared foods daily, including vegan, vegetarian, and gluten free menu choices. All of this requires organization and research. To meet this need, now and for the future, Cornucopia has developed a DOL Registered Apprenticeship program for a Purchasing Agent. The apprentice will gain experience in a fast growing, high demand industry where the opportunities are increasing rapidly, while earning a Department of Labor credential upon program completion. Congratulations to Cornucopia!

The Yum Factory & Chocolate Bar

Everything worked the way it should for The Yum Factory owner Melanie Aitken. Upon hearing about the Apprenticeship Illinois initiative, she sent an inquiry for more information through the Illinois workNet website. Within a few days her inquiry was forwarded to the Illinois Apprenticeship Navigator serving her region and contact was established.

The Navigator then met with Melanie several times to answer questions and present how apprenticeships could help her business. Time was taken to discuss development as well as possible funding options for the program once it became registered. An apprenticeable occupation was identified and both the Navigator and YUM Factory owner began to design the apprenticeship program which would recruit, train, and retain the type of employee needed for YUM Factory's future.

The next step was to submit the draft program to the Department of Labor representative for final developmental steps. The US DOL Apprenticeship and Training Representative helped finalize Melanie's goals and made the program registration ready. Final approval was received and congratulations were sent to YUM Factory for their first Registered Apprenticeship Program!

After registration, the WIOA (Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act) provider for the Local Workforce Innovation Area has helped fund several new apprentices into the new DOL Registered Apprenticeship program. YUM Factory's future looks good – and – as Melanie Aitken would say: "Have a Sweet Day!"
